Balancing Your Escrow Account

There needs to be enough money in your escrow account to pay your property taxes and/or insurance. To do that, federal law allows us to require that you keep a minimum balance in your account. This cash reserve helps to cover any increase in taxes and/or insurance. However, the minimum balance requirement has been waived for your account.

The payments made to and from your escrow account last year help predict your account activity for next year. This year's activity also helps predict what your lowest account balance is likely to be.¹

To balance your escrow account, we compare what your lowest account balance will likely be next year with your minimum required balance. The difference between those two numbers tells us if you need to pay a shortage or if we need to give you a surplus refund.

| 904.71 | Your escrow account shortage |

A QUICK GUIDE TO UNDERSTANDING YOUR

Annual Escrow Analysis

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Why am I getting an Escrow Analysis?

We run your Escrow Analysis annually so you know the amount of taxes and/or insurance we paid for you this past year with funds from your escrow account. We also include what we expect to pay next year.

What is an escrow minimum balance?

For most accounts, the minimum required balance is equal to two months of escrow payments. This minimum balance helps cover any increases in your taxes and/or insurance over the next year.

Why does my account have a shortage?

We calculate your monthly escrow payment for the year based on your tax and/or insurance payment amounts at the time your analysis is run. Shortages most frequently occur when your taxes and/or insurance increase during the year. We pay the higher amount due for you. This can create a shortage because we're paying out more than we expected.

What do I need to do about this shortage?

You have options:

- You can pay all of the shortage now.
- · You can pay part of the shortage now.
- · We can spread the shortage payment evenly across next year's mortgage escrow payments.
- · Please note that your escrow payment may still go up, even if you pay all of the shortage, if your tax and/or insurance expenses have gone up.
